REPORT.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, December 31, 1887.

To the Governor and Legislature of the State of Michigan:

In obedience to the duty imposed upon me by law, I have the honor to submit the following report of the business transacted by the Attorney General during the preceding year, or connected with his office, including abstracts of the reports of the Prosecuting Attorneys of the State, showing the criminal prosecutions, penalties inflicted, and other items pertaining to the administration of justice.

Schedule "B" contains a list of chancery causes, commenced in the various Circuit Courts in Chancery, in which the State is somewhat interested, and to which State officers were made parties.

These cases, except where the State had a special and direct interest in the result, have been referred to, and left mainly in charge of the Prosecuting Attorneys of the respective counties, where they were pending.

Schedule "C" is a list of quo-warranto and other special proceedings, authorized by me in the name of the State, but substantially conducted by, and in charge of, counsel employed by interested parties, as the questions involved were principally of a personal or local nature.

Schedule "D" is a list of mandamus cases, quo-warranto and other proceedings, and suits at law, commenced by me in behalf of the State, or parties against the State, and in which the State is directly interested.

Schedule "E" is a list of Chancery cases pending, or commenced within the year, directly affecting the interests of the State.

Schedule "F" contains a list of insurance companies, where articles of association of such companies, or amendments to such articles of association, have been examined and approved by me, in pursuance of law.

Five murder and manslaughter cases, have been argued and submitted, or disposed of by the Supreme Court, within the year. These cases are the People vs. Foley, the People vs. Carr, the People vs. Aiken, the People vs. Coughlin, and People vs. Coughlin, second case. The cases of Carr and Aiken were reversed, and new trials ordered, and that of Foley was submitted to the Court at the October term of 1886, and affirmed at the January term, 1887. The Coughlin case, at the first hearing, was reversed, and at the second, the conviction of manslaughter was affirmed.

The only murder case now pending in readiness for hearing, is that of the People vs. Vanderhoof, which has been postponed from time to time, at the request of respondent's attorneys, and, in the meantime, respondent is serving out her sentence in the State prison at Jackson.

In the case of the People vs. A. P. Swineford, judgment has been obtained in the Marquette Circuit, for the amount claimed by the State, interest and costs. Motion has been made by defendant for a new trial, based upon the alleged neglect of his attorney in securing his depositions. While the judgment may not be of much value, it establishes the principle, that no man is so far exalted by place, or his own opinion, as to be exempt from accounting to the State, for State funds, by him disbursed.

Three very important suits have been instituted by me in behalf of the State in the Circuit Court for the County of Ingham—in Chancery, against the Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw Railroad Company, Flint and Pere Marquette Railroad Company, and the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company, and other parties claiming, in interest through, or with said companies.

These suits in the aggregate, involve about 150,000 acres of land, and grow out of the claim of the State, under the grant of swamp and overflowed lands of the United States Congress of 1850.

The act of the State Legislature of 1851 accepting these lands, as shown by the minutes of the original surveys, and which legislation was prompted by the suggestion of the United States Land Commissioner, and Surveyor General, gives the State a prima facie title to them.

The minutes of original surveys and plats and maps prepared by the Surveyor General, are on file in the office of the Land Commissioner at Lansing, and the descriptions of lands involved in these suits, have been obtained from, and carefully compared with such minutes, maps and plats under the direction of Mr. Sleeper, the Deputy Land Commissioner. These lands have been in part listed to the State, but whether listed or not, the decisions of the United States Supreme Court, as well as that of other courts, would appear to vest title to the same, in the State, by virtue of the grant and the method of identification adopted by the State through its Legislature. For many years the State, through its Land Department, has been endeavoring to secure patents of the swamp and overflowed lands to which it was entitled, with but indifferent success. From time to time, it was brought to the attention of State officials, and particularly by Mr. Sleeper, who has been indefatigable in his efforts to secure to the State the full benefit of the swamp and overflowed land grant, that certain of these lands, shown by the minutes of survey and maps in the State Land Office, to belong to the State, had been certified by the officers of the Land Department at Washington, to some one of the several railroad companies mentioned. Full and thorough examination of records, maps and plats developed the fact, that the amount of lands so listed to said railroad companies, amounted to many thousands of acres, some of which are very valuable.

This was, I understand, the first full comparison and listing of these lands by the State Land Department, from the minutes of surveys and maps and plats, made and filed, by the Surveyor General.

Under the general law of the State, these lands cannot be disposed of until patents, the evidence of title, have first been obtained; and for this reason, perhaps, the State Land Department has contented itself with using the clerks that could be spared from other duties, in making out partial or small lists, and applying for patents therefor from Washington, with varying success. The original records are at Lansing, and copies are supposed to be at Washington, where the fault seems to lie, in the listing of these lands to the railroad companies. The real difficulty, probably, grew out of the failure of the Secretary of the Interior to make lists and plats of these lands, and to send the same to the Governor of the State, as required by law; but such neglect of duty does not affect, and cannot defeat the vested rights of the State.

It may be that the action of the Legislature of 1851, and the preparation of maps by the Surveyor General in pursuance of it, showing the swamp and overflowed lands indicated by the surveys, was regarded by the Secretary of the Interior as an equivalent, and in lieu of the duty imposed upon him; but if so, it was a mistake, and has led to serious complications.

If these lands belong to the State, there is no apparent reason why its title should not now be asserted and established. If the companies named have suffered from the mistakes of Washington officials, or others, they have a proper claim for adjustment, to be presented to the United States Congress, and a bill has already been introduced, I am advised, with that general object in view.

It is claimed, however, that some of these lands have been sold to bona fide settlers, who have improved and carved out homes for themselves and families. It is probable that such cases exist; to what extent, or in what number, we have not yet been able to ascertain; but wherever such settlers may be found, they are certainly entitled to the most liberal treatment at the hands of the State; and I would earnestly recommend to the next legislature, the passage of some act which will secure to such persons their homes, and the full enjoyment of the result of their labor, without any, or only nominal charge. This action is the more readily recommended, as, in so doing, I am satisfied that I but voice the general sentiment of the present State administration.

In the case of Webster vs. Newell, Land Commissioner, in my last report, the decree of the Court below was modified, and a method suggested by which the complainant's claim could be considered by the State Land Department.

The case of James C. Fargo vs. Auditor General, pending in the United States Supreme Court at the date of my last report, was decided by that Court in favor of complainant, the Court holding act 152 of the Laws of 1883 unconstitutional and void.

The case of National Car Company vs. Auditor General, by stipulation, followed the decision in the Fargo case, and other claims of the State of a similar character, had to be abandoned.

The case of Stevens, Auditor General, vs. the Lake George and Muskegon River Railway Company et al., a bill filed to enforce the State's lien for taxes in the Clare County Circuit, was decided in favor of the State, and an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court, by the defendants, where it is still pending.

Respectfully submitted,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

The People ex rel. the Attorney General vs. the Board of Supervisors of Sanilac county. This is an application to require the Board of Supervisors of Sanilac county, to act, under act number 262 of the Session Laws of 1887. This is a mandamus proceeding, to compel the Auditor General to pay over certain moneys belonging to townships, which have been paid into the Auditor General's office upon taxes returned for a period of several years. Mandamus to compel the Insurance Commissioner, to license relator to transact its insurance business in the State of Michigan. Foreign insurance companies.—Howell's Statutes Sections 4291, 4341, 4342, 4343 construed.—Required to make full and complete statements.—Deposits to be made.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Jan. 18, 1887. }

Hon. Henry S. Raymond, Commissioner of Insurance:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your favor of the 7th inst, relative to the character of statements which should be made by foreign insurance companies under Section 4291 and 4341, 2 and 3, of Howell's Statutes, would state: That in my judgment, under the former section (4291), these companies were required to make full and complete statements of all their business, as the statute in terms refers to the filing of the "annual statements" of such companies, and then follows: "They shall also cause to be made out and filed, supplementary annual statements of their business, in the United States for the year ending the thirty-first day of December, on the first day of January in each year, or within sixty days thereafter."

Section 4341 was a later enactment, and to a certain extent, it has superseded and modified the prior statute. This latter act, provides for the deposit of securities in any State of the United States "for the sole benefit and security of the policy holders of such insurance company or corporation residing in the United States," to the amount of $200,000, and a report of its financial standing and such securities, together with a full statement of the business done in the United States during the year preceding such statement, etc.; and further down in the same section (4341), it provides: "In estimating the financial standing of such companies or corporations, such deposit of two hundred thousand dollars shall be considered the cash capital of the company." This seems to confine the statement here provided for, to the business done and securities deposited in the United States.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

[No. 2.]

State roads, bridges.—Liability of counties in not keeping bridges in the same, in repair.—County not liable in damages for such failure.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Feb. 3, 1887. }

B. Hall, Esq., Supervisor of Sumner Township, in behalf of the Board, Ithaca, Gratiot County, Michigan:

DEAR SIR:—Having disposed of matters pressing upon me at the date of your communication, I reply to the same:

From your statement it appears, that under act 77 of the laws of 1850, a State road was established in your county, and upon the line of which a bridge was constructed at Bridgeville, in your county, over Pine river. From papers submitted, it seems that the Board of Supervisors of Gratiot county, in the years 1858 and 1876 made appropriations, first to aid in building, and second to rebuild said bridge.

The question you ask is, as to whether by failure to continue its appropriations to said bridge, the county becomes liable for any damages that may accrue; or in other words, whether the county is legally obligated to continue its aid, and keep said bridge in repair.

The care of State roads is given to the commissioners of highways, but the same cannot be discontinued, except by direction of the board of supervisors. Howell's Statutes, Section 1321. Quite full control of such roads, is given to the board of supervisors by Section 497, Howell's Statutes.

There was an act in 1846, I believe, which, under certain circumstances, made counties liable for damages, in connection with State roads, but the same was repealed in 1881, and has no important bearing upon this question. I do not find any law creating a liability for damages, by reason of the failure of the county to care for and keep up the bridge in question, or that imposes such duty upon the county. If the township will not do it, it may be advisable for the board of supervisors, to proceed to have the road upon which the bridge, is built vacated. Section 1384 of Howell's Statutes, permits, (but does not impose it as a duty), certain aid to be given by the board of supervisors, to the construction of bridges, or the rebuilding of the same, where the contract price exceeds fifteen hundred dollars. I do not think, therefore, that your board of supervisors will incur any liability, by discontinuing its financial aid to the bridge over Pine river, at Bridgeville.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Supreme Court act increasing the number of judges.—Held valid under Section 2, Article 6, of the Constitution.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Feb. 7, 1887. }

Hon. Cyrus G. Luce, Governor:

DEAR SIR:—Your communication of the 4th instant, relative to the bill providing for the election of an additional judge to the Supreme Court, and extending the term of the Judges of said Court, was received on my return from Detroit. As I stated last evening, the question of increasing the number of Judges of the Supreme Court was somewhat examined by me two years ago, when I came to the conclusion that such legislation would be held valid. Section 2, Article 6, of the Constitution precluded any organization of a Supreme Court for six years, and provides for the number of Judges constituting such Court. And further that "such Supreme Court when so organized shall not be changed or discontinued by the Legislature for eight years thereafter. The Judges thereof shall be so classified, that but one of them shall go out of office at the same time. Their term of office shall be eight years." The language of the Constitution precludes, of course, the Legislature after such Court has once been organized, from in any manner interfering with the same, for the period of eight years, and, in my judgment, a fair construction of such language permits the Legislature to change its organization after the lapse of eight years. Certainly there is nothing in this language that prohibits such action, and the clear implication permits it. For such period it cannot be changed, or discontinued by the Legislature.

In the provision as to how the Judges are to be classified, and stating the term of their office to be eight years, think there was in mind, the Judges of the Court first established, and that by this language the framers of the Constitution, as they have expressed their intent in this section, did not mean to provide how the Judges of the Court in any organization after the first, were to be classified, nor to limit the Legislature in the time for which the Judges under any reorganization should be elected.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Manufacturing companies.—Uniform blanks under law of 1885.—Substantial uniformity required by law.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Feb. 8, 1887.

Hon. Gil R. Osmun, Secretary of State:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to yours of the 3d inst. relative to the manufacturing law of 1885 and the blanks to be used by such corporations, would say: That while I think that the statute requires the use of uniform blanks, I do not think it precludes a corporation from using blanks of its own preparation, provided that the form is substantially like that prepared at your office, and in compliance with the law.

While in so far as the law expressly requires certain statements to be contained in the articles of association, all of which your blanks include, the blanks must be uniform.

There may, however, be instances where, to fairly express the object and intent of the corporation, and the business which is to be carried on by it, it will be necessary to use larger blanks than those prepared by you, and to set out matters which might not as properly be set out, under some one of the propositions or heads of the blanks as under another and different one.

To constitute the blank prepared, absolute law, its form should have been adopted by the Legislature, as a part of the enactment, but as the law now stands, substantial uniformity can be, I think, properly insisted upon.

Section 17 of the law, provides that such corporation "may at any annual meeting, or any meeting duly called for that purpose, by a resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds in interest of its capital stock, amend its articles of association in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this act." Such amendment, is to be recorded the same as the original articles.

The permission to amend, extends to any change not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and does not in terms refer to any limitation, by reason of, or to make it conform to, any particular blank used. If the amendment of the articles of association can be made as broad as the general authority of the law extends, so it would seem, the original articles, can at least be just as broad. I think, therefore, that you can as far as the express requirements of the statute go, reasonably insist on uniformity or substantial uniformity, and as to any additional provisions of articles desired by companies, you probably cannot preclude such provisions, if insisted upon by them.

The reason for uniform blanks and of the act is apparent, and companies as far as possible should be willing to comply with it.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Support of paupers.—Construction of Sections 1788, 1789, 1767, 1768, 1769, 1770 of Howell's Statutes.—Liability of counties for support of paupers.—Settlement of same.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Feb. 9, 1887. }

D. B. Morgan, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney, Adrian, Mich.:

DEAR SIR :—Your inquiry of the 5th instant, was duly received. You state that about two years ago a Mrs. Kittridge, was living in Ann Arbor and receiving aid from that city; that a supervisor of that city purchased her a ticket to Adrian, and by such assistance she came to the latter city. After a short residence at Adrian, Mrs Kittridge called upon an Adrian supervisor for assistance, which was given, and Washtenaw county properly notified.

The settlement of Mrs. Kittridge in Washtenaw county was at first denied and then conceded by the Superintendent of the Poor to have been at Ann Arbor. The first relief to this woman was paid by Washtenaw county, and for several months thereafter she lived without public assistance, when she again called for help, which was rendered by the authorities of Lenawee county, and the officials of Washtenaw county promptly notified, but they refused to pay this second bill, for the reason, that she had not been in Washtenaw county within a year next preceding such last assistance.

From your statement I understand the facts to be : That Mrs. Kittridge has not been in your county for an entire year without receiving public assistance, and for that reason, your officials claim that she has gained no settlement there and is still a charge upon Washtenaw county, and that the authorities of the latter county insist, that she has lost her settlement in it, and that any bills for support which had been paid were paid by Ann Arbor and not the county.

You state, however, that notice was sent to the Superintendents of the Poor of Washtenaw county, and the money for the bill paid, came from them. The question submitted is as to whether Mrs. Kittridge had gained a settlement under the circumstances stated in Lenawee county. Section 1789, Howell's Statutes, provides that no person shall be removed as a pauper from one township, or city or county to another township, city or county. Section 1788 of Howell's Statutes provides: "No residence of any person as a pauper in the county poor-house, or place provided for the support of the poor, in any township while supported at the expense of any township or county, shall operate to give such pauper a settlement in the township where such actual residence may be had." This statute would probably exclude the time during which this woman was supported in your county, from that which could be included in the time going to fix a settlement therein. Section 1767, Howell's Statutes, makes it a misdemeanor to transport, or cause to be carried, a pauper from one county to another. Section 1768, Howell's Statutes, provides that such pauper shall be supported by the Superintendents of the Poor of the county from which he may have been removed, or brought, and it is required to take charge of such pauper. Sections 1769, 1770, Howell's Statutes, provides how the pauper shall be removed, and the liability of the delinquent county for expenses. From the statement made, it seems this action provided for by the last sections of the statutes referred to, was not taken, or at least by reason of payment of the expenses of Mrs. Kittridge, nothing further than the first notice was given or done. The rights of the parties or counties are not entirely clear.

I assume, however, that Mrs. Kittridge was a pauper, and that she was sent from Washtenaw to Lenawee county contrary to law, nor do I think that she gained a settlement in Lenawee, unless she resided there for one year without support from Washtenaw county.

The language of Section 1788 is consistent with this view, and under the circumstances as detailed in your letter, it is not unreasonable to assume that this support should be construed to have been given under Section 1766, Howell's Statutes, which provides that the support of paupers, &c., may be "in such place and in such manner as shall best promote the interests of the county."

The fact that this pauper's prior settlement was in one township of Washtenaw, would not, as it occurs to me, make any difference as between the counties. With this understanding of the facts, it is my opinion that the county of Lenawee can give notice, if not already given, and require Washtenaw county to support Mrs. Kittridge under the statutes referred to. There may be some facts or circumstances that have been overlooked, which may present a different aspect, and I only give this opinion on the facts as I understand them from your letter.

Yours truly,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

[No. 6.]

Construction of Sections 41 and 43, of the tax law of 1835.—Township moneys to be applied to make any deficiency of school tax, and, if not sufficient, then the State taxes, or so much as may be required.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Feb. 23, 1887. }

James E. McCauley, Esq., Supervisor, Galilee Township, Manitou County, St. James, Mich.:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter dated the 11th inst., is before me, and this is the first opportunity for giving it attention.

You enclose a copy of a letter from Deputy Auditor General Pratt, and ask my opinion of his construction of Sections 41 and 43, of the tax law of 1835. The question you raise is, as to whether, before the Town Treasurer can retain county and State funds for school taxes, he must exhaust township moneys; and if there is a deficiency in the school fund, whether such deficiency must be made up, from the county and State moneys, in his settlement with the County Treasurer. These questions should, ordinarily, be asked of the Prosecuting Attorneys of the various counties, but as this is one of such general interest, will give you my view of the law in question.

While conceding the force of your position, which has been as strongly stated by you as it can well be put, I am compelled to agree with the tax department, as stated by Deputy Auditor General Pratt. I do not agree with you, in your view that Section 41 of the act is of no importance in determining the construction of Section 43. Section 41 provides, if the full amount of township taxes are not collected, "such portion thereof as he shall collect, shall be retained by him, and paid out for the following purposes, and in the following order, viz:

"First, The amount raised for school purposes, to be paid on the order of the school district officers;

"Second, The amount raised for the general township purposes, to be paid on the order of the Township Board;

"Third, The amount of highway taxes, to be paid on the order of the Commissioner of Highways."

If there is not the full amount of taxes collected, enough of the sum collected, must be applied to the school tax, to satisfy moneys to be applied to such demand. If the authority of the Treasurer extended to retaining money of the county or State, for the entire sum lacking in the collection of school taxes, then why was any provision needed like the one here found; or if necessary under certain circumstances, where the amount of State and county taxes collected were not sufficient to make up this deficiency, would not Section 41 have provided, as to the use of township moneys belonging to other than school funds, after the amount retained from county and State taxes had been applied and found insufficient?

There is nothing in Section 41 that indicates that the use of other township moneys than school money, is to be affected or withheld until any county and State money retained, has first been applied and exhausted.

When the return to the County Treasurer is made by the Town Treasurer, all town moneys of every description, are in the treasury of the township, and under the law, applicable to the same, as far as needed, are required to be used for school purposes.

Now, when the return is made, what deficiency exists, in the sum collected for school purposes? The town taxes, other than those expressly collected for such object, have been already applied to such purpose, or are required to be so applied, as fast as needed, and as rapidly as the school district officers, may give orders upon the fund. This being the case, what need is there, it may be said, of this language in Section 43, of the tax law?

The entire taxes collected for township purposes may not be enough to satisfy the demand for school purposes; or possibly no township taxes, other than school, may have been collected, and in either event, this law permits a retention of State and county money, not exceeding the deficiency in the sum collected for school purposes to help out this particular fund. I think the object and intent of this legislation, were to require the towns to care for their own expenses, except where the entire amount of money raised was not enough to care for the schools, then, that educational interests might not suffer, they were permitted to retain money belonging to the State and county.

If Section 41 were construed as you construe it, to wit: that the object of the Legislature was merely to authorize the payment of the different classes of township monies, and not to permit or require the use of other than school taxes for school purposes, why is such section prefaced with the words: "In case the Township Treasurer shall not collect the full amount of taxes required by his warrant to be paid into the township treasury?" This Section is only applicable when the full amount is not collected, and very clearly not only permits, but requires, other than school taxes to be applied for school purposes.

This may be a "flagrant" construction of the law, but I think it is the one the courts will place upon it, if brought before them.*

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Elections.—Registration.—Willful violation of registration should be punished.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, March 1, 1867. }

J. B. Upton, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney, Big Rapids, Mich.:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to yours of the 26th ult., relative to certain persons violating the registration law, would say that I have examined the statute referred to, Sec. 171 C. L. of 1871, being Sec. 92 of Howell's Statutes.

You state that the party applying to the board to register, said he did not know whether he was entitled to register, and produced his papers, which showed he had not declared his intention for six months prior to the election, shortly to take place. The claim is made that the board is liable, under the act in question, for registering him under these circumstances.

The doubt expressed by yourself is as to whether the statute applies to the registration of others than non-residents. The reading of the Section (92 of Howell) would seem to answer this doubt and question, as the statute reads: "The name of no person but an actual resident of the township at the date of the registration and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the then next election or township meeting, shall be entered in the register."

All persons, whether residents or otherwise, not entitled to vote at the election following the meeting of the registration board, are excluded from registration. The question as to whether a prosecution shall be instituted, is one peculiarly within your province. Personally, if I thought the law had been willfully violated, I see no reason why the law should not be enforced, but if the parties composing the board acted in good faith under the belief that the law entitled this man to registration, and so registered him, should hesitate about instituting criminal proceedings.

If any prosecution is commenced, I suppose it could be against one or all of the members of the registration board who had violated the law.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Dentistry.—Construction of act 140, Laws of 1883.—Wandering physicians.—Reputable colleges.—Listing of persons licensed to practice.—Registration.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, April 29, 1887. }

G. S. Shattuck, Esq., Treasurer of State Board of Examiners in Dentistry:

DEAR SIR:—You ask for my opinion of act No. 140 of the Laws of 1883, regulating the practice of dentistry in the State. You ask:

First. Whether "a physician under the cover of this law, can travel about the country with a brass band, negro minstrel show, to attract a crowd, extract teeth free of charge, as a further attraction to the people in order to sell them his nostrums."

Second. Whether the State Board of Examiners "have the authority to say what is a reputable college or otherwise, that is, have we absolute power to refuse a diploma from a college which we may think does not come up to the standard in its classification and teaching?"

Third. Whether a college whose diploma you have refused to recognize, can commence suit in any of our Courts, and make members of the Board liable for costs if they are defeated in the action, and as to the proper course to pursue, if such suit is brought.

It seems from your statement, that for reasons satisfactory to your Board, you have refused to register those presenting diplomas from the Indiana Dental College, and that the trouble arises from students and graduates of that institution being refused registration, under the act in question.

First. As to the first question, will say that I do not think the proviso to Section 12 of act 140, "that nothing in this act shall be construed so as to interfere with physicians and surgeons in their practice as such," will permit quacks or persons who may in some way have received diplomas to practice as physicians and surgeons, to traverse the country, and advertise their nostrums by extracting teeth. I do not regard such proceedings that of the practice of a surgeon or physician.

Second. Section 1 of the act reads: "That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person to practice dentistry in this State, unless such person has received a diploma from the faculty of a reputable dental college, duly incorporated under the laws of this or some other State of the United States, or a certificate of qualification from the Board of Examiners provided for by this act." Section 5 provides for an examination of applicants once in each year, after the giving of thirty days' notice, to each practicing dentist in the State who has filed his name and address with the Secretary of the Board.

It will be seen from the first section, that either a diploma from a "reputable dental college" or a certificate from your Board, authorizes the person holding the same to practice dentistry.

Section 9 makes it the duty of your Board to keep a list of the names of all persons to whom licenses have been granted under this act, and also of all persons practicing dentistry in this State, in a book to be provided for the purpose. This list is to be kept whether any application is made or not, to your Board. Section 11 provides for "each person now engaged in the practice of dentistry in this State" to within ninety days thereafter, such act takes effect, to send to the Secretary of your Board an affidavit stating his name, place of business, postoffice address, the length of time he had been engaged in practice, and if a graduate of a dental college, the name of the same, etc. I do not think you have any authority to reject from your list, any one who is in the regular practice of dentistry, and no other registration appears to be required by the statute.

When persons apply for examination, of course your Board, or its members, uses its or their discretion and judgment in passing upon their qualification and issuing certificates.

It seems to me, however, that you are not called upon, in making up your list of practicing dentists to pass upon the "reputable" character of the dental college from which any of them may have received diplomas.

If you find that some person is practicing without any diploma from a "reputable dental college," such person can be prosecuted, and, if found guilty, made liable to the penalty provided by the law. Nor do I think you are called upon or authorized to refuse to register any practicing dentist, whatever may be your opinion as to his authority to practice.

There seems to be no other registration required, than the making of lists, unless it be of those to whom certificates are issued. The law appears to be somewhat defective, in not conferring upon your Board the right to determine the qualifications, both of the individual applicant, as well as the sufficiency of the diploma, held by the practicing dentist.

Third. As I view the law, cannot see that any suit will lie against you by any dental college for the performance of your duties in keeping lists in your office, and hence the question as to costs becomes immaterial.

Yours truly,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Extradition.—Fugitive from justice.—Questions that can be tried and considered by the Governor when asked to grant a requisition made upon him.—What constitutes a fugitive from justice.—Bona fide prosecution.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, May, 1887. }

In the matter of the Governor of Missouri's demand and requisition for E. J. Wright from the Governor of Michigan :

In this matter, the genuineness and regularity of the papers, seem to be conceded by the respondent. No question appears to be made but that a crime is charged in the State of Missouri. The question is not, as to whether the party is guilty, but whether he is legally charged with crime.

Spear (last ed.) p. 361.

The matter of Clark, 9 Wend., 212.

Whether the act or acts charged, to have been done constituted a crime under the laws of the State where committed is one that can be passed upon by the Governor on whom the requisition is made, but the question of fact, of guilt or innocence, is not open for trial in a proceeding of this character, as the tribunals of Missouri are to try such issue.

If, however, the object, is not to secure the trial of the defendant for the crime charged, but to force a collection, or to carry him into another jurisdiction, not for trial, but for some ulterior purpose, then the application should not be granted, as it is a fraud upon the law, and not within its object and intent as construed by the Courts.

The most important question probably, is as to whether Wright is a fugitive from justice, in the sense in which that term is used. A strict construction of such term and full proof of the fleeing of one charged with crime from the State where the act was done, to the State from whence he is demanded, would block the prosecution of many deserving criminals, as their motives in going from one State to another are entirely in their own minds, and not susceptible of express proof.

As bearing upon the question of whether Wright is a fugitive from justice, his guilt or innocence of the crime charged, is not open to investigation. If Wright claimed to have been absent from the State of Missouri, at the time in question, he could prove that upon two grounds: First, because he was not a fugitive from that State, and second, upon the ground that he had not committed any crime against the laws of such State.

The bodily presence of Wright establishes the fact that he is in this State, and that he was in Missouri at the date of the alleged embezzlement, is not controverted.

These facts, namely: Wright's presence in Missouri at the date of the alleged offense, and his removal from that State to Michigan subsequently, where he is found at the presentation of the requisition of the Governor of Missouri, makes at least a prima facie case against him as a fugitive from justice. Judge Cooley, in his article quoted in the text-books, holds to this, if not more, and the reason suggested by him why it should not be held conclusive is, that one who had never been in the State where the crime was committed, might be held bound by a conclusive presumption, but the showing which would be permissible that the laws of such State had not been violated, would in this case answer such objection. The case of 17 Hun., 190, holds such facts conclusive.

This is consistent with the language of Justice Matthews: "To be a fugitive from justice in the sense of the Act of Congress regulating the subject under consideration, it is not necessary that the party charged should have left the State in which the crime is alleged to have been committed, after an indictment found, or for the purpose of avoiding a prosecution anticipated by him, but simply, that having within a State, committed that which by its laws constitutes a crime, when he is sought to be subjected to its criminal process to answer for the offense, he has left its jurisdiction, and is found within the territory of another." Roberts vs. Reilly, 116 U. S., 97. This question may not be entirely settled, but in the language quoted from Justice Matthews, I think he intends to hold on the facts therestated, which are, as I understand, identical in this particular with those in this matter, as far as given, that one in a State where a crime was committed. properly charged with it, and found in another State, although not coming to such State or leaving the first to avoid prosecution, is a "fugitive from justice" in the meaning of the Constitutional provision.

The following questions are undoubtedly open.

First, Whether the proceeding is in fraud of the law and not for bona fide prosecution of crime.

Second, Whether Wright is legally charged with the offense.

Third, Whether the offense charged was in violation of the laws of Missouri.

Fourth, And whether Wright is a fugitive from Missouri, leaving open only the question whether he was there, when the crime was alleged to have been committed.

After a careful examination, I think the better law, as laid down in the books is, that this should limit the inquiry. If the question of fact as to whether Wright actually left Missouri to avoid prosecution for crime, had to be established, to show him a fugitive from justice, this would necessitate the trial of the question as to his guilt or innocence, as, if he were innocent, it could not well be found that he escaped to avoid prosecution, and was a fugitive from justice, and particularly at a time when no crime had been charged.

The action of the Chief Executive of this State, cannot be reviewed, and if grounds sufficient are shown, think a warrant issued can be revoked.

The long delay, the conduct of complaining parties interested in the prosecution, the methods adopted by them in the proceedings, if out of the usual course, can be considered in determining whether the prosecution is bona fide or not, and the conclusion to be drawn therefrom is one of judgment and discretion of the Executive.

Having heard but little of the proof in this matter, am not prepared to suggest an opinion as to what it establishes upon any of the points stated.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,

Attorney General.

Legislative manuals.—Construction of the act of 1887 for distribution of same.—
Whether applicable to those published at the time the act became a law.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, May 13, 1887. }

Hon. Gil. R. Osmun, Secretary of State:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of date May 10th, enclosing a copy of an act, relative to the publication and distribution of Legislative manuals, and asking my opinion as to the construction thereof, is before me.

Upon my first examination of this act, I was quite strongly impressed with the view that in its application, it must be construed as prospective, and not so as to affect Legislative manuals published under the law of which this is amendatory.

Section one of this act, an act approved April 21, 1887, reads: "That hereafter the Secretary of State, shall cause to be prepared and published bi-ennially the Legislative manual, to be distributed by him to the persons and officers hereinafter named," and then goes on to provide the method of distribution, naming the persons and officials who shall be entitled to receive manuals, and the number that shall be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State for sale. by such official at a price not less than the actual cost thereof.

Were this act an original one, and not an amendment to a prior similar enactment, there would be no question in my mind as to its construction being purely prospective, but upon an examination of the act of which this is amendatory, and the decisions which seem to govern in the construction of amendments of this character, I am inclined to think that it should be given a construction which will make it applicable to manuals published under the law of 1879, of which this is an amendment. The act in question amends that of number 263 of the Public Acts of 1879.

The enacting clause recites, that section one of the original act, stating the title, shall be amended "so as to read as follows." The section in question is almost identical, with the exception hereinafter stated, word for word, with that of the act of 1879.

The last clause of the section, varies from the corresponding section of the act of 1879 in this, that it provides for the distribution by the Legislature, of twenty-two hundred copies of the manual, instead of fifteen hundred copies provided for by the original act, and leaves with the Secretary of State for sale two hundred, instead of nine hundred copies.

I find word for word, in this new act, the first sentence of the original act, which recites: "That hereafter the Secretary of State shall cause to be prepared and published bi-ennially a Legislative manual, &c."

With the two exceptions, therefore, to which I have referred, it is identically, the act of 1879.

No provision is contained in this act, for the distribution of the Legislative manuals upon hand, when it became a law and took effect, and unless it is construed to apply to such manuals there is no authority under which they can be disposed of by you, as the old law is entirely superseded by the new.

I find upon an examination of authorities, that where a law is amended, and the amendment contains the same provisions as that of the old law, and in fact is in part a re-enactment of the old law, using the same language, that such part of the old law as is re-enacted by the amendment, is given force and effect, as of the date when such original law was first made.

In the case of Moore vs. Mausert et al., 49 N. Y., page 335, where an act of 1854 was amended by an act of 1869, providing for the enforcement of mechanics' liens, the Court uses this language, referring to the case of Healy vs. Holton, 15 N. Y., 595, "it was decided by this Court, that the effect of an amendment of a statute made by a subsequent statute, declaring that such statute shall be amended so as to read as follows, retaining a part of the statute amended and incorporating therein new provisions, was not to repeal the part retained, and re-enact the same, but that such part of the statute continued in force from the first enactment, and that the new provisions incorporated, became operative from the time the amendatory statute took effect."

It would follow that where certain provisions of the original statute were omitted from the amendatory statute, such provisions were abrogated and ceased to form any part of the statute after such time.

Applying these rules to the present case, it follows, that the word "hereafter" in the first line of section one, chapter 402, page 1086, laws of 1854, being contained in the section as amended by chapter 588, page 1355, laws of 1869, continues to speak from the time of the passage of the act of 1854, and applies to, and includes, all labor and materials after that time.

It will be seen that the word "thereafter," which would seem to make this act applicable to manuals published after it became a law, was copied from the act of 1879, the same, as the same word in the case to which I have just called attention, was copied in the act of 1869 from the act of 1854; and if the case of Moore vs. Mausert et al., is good law, then this act in question, should be held applicable to manuals upon hand, published under the law of 1879.

The case of Harting vs. the People, 26 N. Y., page 172, and that of Glebtz vs. the State, 38 Wis., page 549, recognize the same rule. The cases of Conrad vs. Nall, 24 Mich., page 275, and Parsons vs. the Circuit Judge, Wayne, 37 Mich., page 290, in the dictum of the Court, seem to recognize the same rule of construction, although the identical points were not directly before the Court in those cases.

Respectfully submitted.

Attorney General.

Lotteries.—Advertising of lotteries in the State under the guise of a news item, is a violation of the law, and makes the publisher of the paper liable to prosecution.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, July 5, 1887. }

D. B. Morgan, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney, Adrian, Mich.:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of 29th ult. received on my return from a few days' absence.

You enclose a clipping from a paper in your section, which purports to be an editorial taken from the "Argus," of Cairo, Illinois. This editorial (so-called), specifies the manner in which one, Corcoran, drew a large prize in the Louisiana State lottery. It states the number of his ticket, the date of drawing, and gives a brief biographical sketch of Mr. C.

While this is not as specific as the "Lucky Rob" notice, it is evidently published for the same object.

You ask my opinion as to whether the publication of this notice, is a violation of the law prohibiting lotteries, Chapter 324, Howell's Statutes. My attention was called to the "Lucky Rob" notice, by a prominent member of the bar, and gentleman of Detroit, who entertained no doubt but that it was a violation of the law. The latter article, as published, stated the address to which Mr. Robb sent, but otherwise varied but little from this.

I would not regard the publication of a mere item of news, to the effect that some individual had drawn a prize in some lottery scheme, as a violation of this law, but it is a different matter, where a notice, whether clothed in the garb of an editorial or not, is published as an advertisement, calculated to, and published for, the purpose of attracting attention to some lottery business, and inducing investments therein.

If this notice is published as an advertisement, and advertising matter, then my judgment is that it would come within one, if not two, of the sections of the act in question.

Section 9333 of Howell's Statutes reads: "Every person who shall sell, either for himself, or for any other person, or shall offer for sale, or shall have in his possession with intent to sell, or offer for sale, or to exchange, or negotiate, or shall, in any wise, aid or assist in the selling, negotiating or disposing of a ticket in any such lottery or gift enterprise, or a share of a ticket, or any such writing, certificate, bill, goods or merchandise, token, or other device, as mentioned in the preceding section, shall be punished for every such offense."

Unless this section is so narrowed by strict construction, as to only make it applicable to a single ticket, instead of lottery tickets, then this notice, if it aids in the disposal of lottery tickets, is a violation of this provision of the act.

The words, "as mentioned in the preceding section," tend to broaden rather than narrow the construction of this section, as will be evident from reading the section referred to (Section 9331).

Section 9334 of Howell's Statutes reads: "Every person who shall advertise, print, or publish any lottery ticket, a gift enterprise, or any share in any such ticket, for sale either by himself, or by another person, or who shall set up or exhibit, or shall devise and make, for the purpose of being set up or exhibited, any sign, symbol, or any emblematic, or other representation of a lottery or gift enterprise, or of the drawing thereof, in any way indicating where a lottery ticket, or share thereof, or any such writing, certificate, bill, goods, merchandise, or chattels, token, or other device before mentioned, may be purchased or obtained, * * * shall be punished, for every such offense, act, or attempt, by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars."

Is this not an "other representation of a lottery," and does it not indicate where lottery tickets may be purchased?

Several newspaper men, connected with the State press, have advised me that they had been asked to insert such editorial matter as advertisements, and had declined to accept any proposition of such a character. I do not advise prosecution for any technical violation of this law, as I think, when attention is called to the statute, further violation will be avoided; but if, after fair notice given, any one deliberately violates this law, I see no particular reason why this, as well as other laws, should not be enforced.

Yours truly,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Railroad crossings.—Culverts required to be built under Howell's Statutes.—Section 3523, also act 234, Sec. 24, laws of 1885.—Railroad company having complied with the law and surroundings when the road was built cannot be made to put in more culverts.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, July 14, 1887. }

Hon. John T. Rich, Commissioner of Railroads, Lansing, Mich.:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 11th instant, enclosing correspondence with Mr. Wetrous, the attorney for Reuben Brown, and the officials of the F. & P. M. railroad, duly received. It appears as a fact conceded that where the railroad crosses the farm of Mr. Green, and at a proper point in the swamp upon his farm, a suitable culvert has been built by the company, and sufficient as to so drain such swamp as to keep it at its natural or "former state."

This a compliance with subdivision 5 of Section 9, Howell's Statutes, 3523, as amended by Act 116 of the Laws of 1883, and also Act No. 234, Section 24 of 1885.

The further question then is, can a railroad company which has complied with the law applicable to the condition of affairs at the time its road is built, be compelled, when, by the improvement of farming lands and the necessity of additional drainage, new culvert and water-courses are required across its track and road-bed, to construct such culverts or water-courses through its road-bed, at its own expense.

In the absence of the provisions of the drain law hereafter referred to, my opinion is, that it cannot be required to do this, at its own expense, but that such drains would stand on the same footing as other drains, and the company would occupy the same position as any other property owner. As far as you are called to act officially, this probably is sufficient answer.

I find that the Legislature of 1883 did some work which may affect this question if not repealed. Section 17, Act No. 227 of the laws of 1883, reads: "Whenever it is necessary to run a drain across the right of way or road-bed of any railroad, it shall be the duty of the railroad company, when notified by the drain commissioner so to do, to make and maintain (the necessary opening through said road-bed and to build and maintain) a suitable culvert." Also see Sections 16 and 19 of the same act. The drain law of 1885 was, as I understand, quite materially amended and changed by the last Legislature, but not having such amendatory acts before me, cannot say whether these Sections are affected or not. The Secretary of State can advise you upon this point.

As far as I am able, this answers your question, and I will re-enclose correspondence sent me.

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

School law.—Holding of election of examiners.—When act takes effect.—Questions to be furnished.—Election of Secretary.—Special public examinations.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, Mich., July 16, 1887. }

Hon. Joseph Estabrook, Superintendent Public Instruction :

DEAR SIR :—Your inquiry of the 13th inst. is before me. You call my attention to the act passed at the last session, amending the school law from Section 5080 to Section 5162, Howell's Statutes, inclusive, which act was approved June 27th, and takes effect September 26th, next, and ask the following questions :

1st. "Will the annual election of Examiner by the chairmen of the boards of school inspectors take place this year, notwithstanding the proviso in Sec. 1, Chapter 12, of the enclosed act?"

2d. "When can the election of a Secretary be held under the new law?"

3d. "Will the present Board of Examiners be required to hold a regular examination on the first Tuesday of August, as provided in Sec. 3, and must the Superintendent of Public Instruction furnish questions for such examination, as required by the proviso in Sec. 4?"

4th. "Will any portion of the act take effect, before the 26th day of September, or will all of the provisions of the old law, continue in force until that date?" Article 4, Section 20, of the Constitution, reads: "No public act shall take effect, or be in force until the expiration of ninety days from the end of the session at which the same is passed, unless the Legislature shall otherwise direct by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house."

A law must be understood as beginning to speak at the moment it takes effect, and not before. If passed to take effect at a future day, it must be construed as if passed on that day, and ordered to take immediate effect. Rice vs. Ruddiman, 10th Mich., 125, Price vs. Hopkins, 13th Mich., 325.

This act was not given immediate effect, as you state, and hence it takes effect under the constitutional provision referred to, and until such time arrives, the old law is in full force.

It follows, therefore, that the annual election of examiner, should be held under Section 5150, Howell's Statutes, on the first Tuesday of August next.

A secretary should be elected under the old law, on the fourth Tuesday of August next, and the first election of a secretary, under the new law, will be on the fourth Tuesday of August, 1888.

The present Board of Examiners, under the law in force, cannot hold a "regular examination" on the first Thursday of August, as that requires examinations to be held regularly in March and October. I see no objection, however, to the holding or having, a special public examination at such time, which to all intents and purposes, will accomplish the object of a general examination, but in conducting such examination, the provisions of the present, not the new, law should be followed.

No part of the new act, will have effect before the 26th day of September next.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Commutation of sentence, upon conditions.—Reclaiming prisoner when he has violated conditions imposed by commutation.—The best course, to ask the Governor to withdraw or revoke the original, in the light of decision of People vs. Moore, 26 N. W. Rep.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Mich., July 21, 1887. }

D. D. Spaulding, Esq.:

DEAR SIR:—In the matter of Bunn Archer, whose sentence was commuted by Gov. Alger upon the 13th day of May, 1885, to confinement in the Reform School, until he should arrive at the age of 18 years, upon the express condition, that he should commit no crime punishable under the laws of the State of Michigan, before February 9, 1890. I have made inquiry, and received a copy of the commutation order, and, while I am not fully possessed of all the facts, no time for further delay exists. The terms of commutation were as above suggested, and the breach of the conditions, as Mr. Gower advises me, was the breaking into a store, and the stealing of tobacco and cigars therefrom. Mr. Gower says nothing about the proceedings taken by which young Archer was returned to the State Prison, but I presume the proof of commission of the offense, was considered, without legal investigation, sufficient justification for his return to prison.

You ask two questions: 1st. "Is he legally held here, under such return by the officers of the Reform School?" 2d. "If held, should it be under the term of the original sentence by the Court for the term of 8 years, or until 18 years, of age, the term of commutation of aforesaid sentence?"

As to the first question, I answer that it is very doubtful whether he is now legally held at the State Prison, and particularly in the light of the case of People vs. Moore, 29 N. W. Rep., 180, to which your attention was called.

As to the second question, I would say that if Archer is held, think it should be for the term of the original sentence, only treating the time at the Reform School as a part of it. I would make application at once to Governor Luce, to withdraw the commutation of Archer's sentence, on account of the breach of its conditions.

My opinion is that he can do this, and that such action will be sustained by the Court. At least I do not think you should release the prisoner, if such order is now made by the Governor, and if application is made to the Court, will use my best efforts to hold him.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Construction of Act No. 108, laws of 1885.—Juvenile disorderly persons.—Who constitute?—Whether persons can be convicted as such, when there is no school in session?—Sentences to Reform School.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, July 21, 1887. }

Hon. C. A. Gower, Esq., Superintendent Michigan State Reform School:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of 19th inst., relative to Act No. 108 of the laws of 1885, is before me.

By Section 3 of said act, three classes of persons between the ages of eight and sixteen years, are made "juvenile disorderly persons," and subject to its provisions. Subdivision 3, of said Section reads: "Children who are not attending any school, and who habitually frequent streets and other public places, having no lawful business, employment or occupation which renders attendance at school impossible," and as to this class you ask: "Is it legal to commit a boy to this institution, under the provision of this act, during that portion of the year when no public school is in session in the town where the boy resides." The object of this act, is to require the attendance at school of wayward children, the title being "An act to provide for the compulsory reformatory education, of juvenile disorderly persons."

Section 5, of this act, makes it the duty of truant officers, to "give written or printed notice to the parent or guardian of any child, belonging to class three, as described and defined in Section 3 of this act, that said child is not attending any school, and require said parent or guardian, to cause said child to begin regular attendance at the ungraded school, within five days of the date of the service of said notice."

If further answer than the title, was needed, it is supplied by Section 5, and the subsequent Sections of the act.

No conviction can be had legally, unless the conditions exist, which make this act applicable, and no child can be punished by conviction and sentence to the Reform School or Industrial Home for Girls, as a "juvenile disorderly person" for failure to attend school, when no public school is in session in the town or city where he resides. Your view of the law is undoubtedly correct.

To what trains brakes are to be applied.—Railroad trains.—Construction of act 98, Laws of 1875.—Section 3363 of Howell's Statutes.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, Mich., July 24, 1887. }

Hon. John T. Rich, Commissioner of Railroads:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 23d inst. is before me. You state that, "on the 11th of July, a mixed train of the Bay City Division of the Michigan Central Railroad ran into a passenger train of the Chicago and Grand Trunk at the crossing, of the two roads at Lapeer, injuring several persons and doing some damage to property."

That, "incidentally, the question arises, whether the train of the Michigan Central, was equipped according to law."

You state that the train in question, is usually composed of one coach, one sleeper, and the remainder of freight cars, and is denominated, on the time tables as the "Night Express."

Section 3363 of Howell's Statutes, to which you refer, and act 98, Laws of 1875, provides, "that no regular passenger trains shall be run in this State without an air brake, or some equally effective device, for checking the speed of the train, to be approved by the Commissioner of Railroads." The question which you ask, is, whether this law is applicable to the train in question.

As I understand your statement, this train runs on regular time, is daily, and invariably carries passengers, so that it would not seem unreasonable, to call it a regular passenger train. "If, because it carries freight, it is not subject to the law, then the attaching of a fast freight car to each passenger train, would have the effect of taking them all without the law, as there would be no regular passenger train." A freight train with a caboose, or single car, a part of which was occupied by local passengers, would not come within the law. This train, however, has regular passenger coaches, sleeper, and day coach, and is advertised as an "Express train."

The law only requires the air brakes, or other device, to be attached to "each passenger car" on the train, and it would not seem improper to hold the law applicable to such extent. There may be practicable difficulties in the way, with which you are far better acquainted than I, and which should have a controlling influence, in giving construction to this.

School law of 1887.—Election of examiners.—Member of Board of School Examiners, not eligible to position of Secretary, and member of Board, cannot be elected Secretary by his own vote.—The Secretary does not stand on the same footing as other members of the Board.

James L. Spencer, Esq., County Clerk, Flint, Mich.:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to yours, handed me by Mr. Webber, being one of a multitude on this subject, will say, that I have given both the new and the old school law some consideration, and as I now recollect, have written you, or some of your citizens in regard to it.

I think the course suggested by Superintendent Estabrook, the best, namely: to elect no officers under the old law this coming month, and permit the present officers to continue in office until the new law takes effect, when a special election can be held, as there will be vacancies, except where the old law provides that the old officers shall hold over.

You ask me the following questions, which I will answer fully, as by doing so, I may answer others.

First, "Is a member of the County Board of School Examiners, eligible to the office of Secretary of the County Board of School Examiners?"

Second, "Can a member of the Board of Examiners, retain his position on the Board and also fill the office of Secretary of said Board, at the same time?"

Third, "Can a member of the Board of Examiners, be elected Secretary of said Board, by his own vote?"

First, Under the act of 1887, the two School Examiners, with the Judge of Probate acting as a member and clerk, constitute the Board, whose duty it is to employ a Secretary. My opinion is, that it was not the intention of the Legislature, that this Board, should employ one of their members as Secretary. This course is inconsistent with the performance by such member of his official duty as a member, and the two positions are incompatible;

Second, The second question is answered by what I have said, in reply to the first, and in the negative;

Third, The third question is also answered in the negative. The language of Section 2 clearly shows, that while the Secretary is a member ex-officio, he does not stand upon the same footing as the other members. It reads: "The Secretary of the Board shall be ex-officio a member and the executive officer of the Board of Examiners, in the transaction of all business of said Board, except in the appointing or removing from office, of the Secretary of said Board. The intention of the statute was to bring into the Board a fourth member, to act as its executive officer, and take part in the ordinary transaction of its business.

Swamp lands.—Grants of same for public improvements.—If constructed with a scheme of taxation by townships for the same purpose.—Under Section 9, Article 14, of the Constitution.—Under Section 45, Article 4, of the Constitution, the grant of the same should be on a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, ——— —, 1887. }

To the Board of Control of State Swamp Lands:

At the last meeting of said board, there was referred to the undersigned, several acts granting to various townships and counties, swamp lands of the State of Michigan, for the purpose of drainage and reclamation, as in said acts provided, with the instruction that we report, first, as to the legality of said acts, and second, as to the amount of lands already granted to the various counties in which said proposed improvements are to be made, with any other circumstances, bearing upon the question of the advisability of action, on the part of this board.

The clerk of this board, in pursuance of such resolution, and to aid us in this investigation, has placed in our hands copies of six acts of the last Legislature.

The first is entitled "An act to authorize, empower, and direct the Board of Control of State Swamp Lands, to construct a ditch through the townships of Hebron and Mackinac, in the county of Cheboygan." The language of this act, is positive in that it directs the board, to make an appropriation, leaving only to the discretion of the board, the amount to be appropriated.

The second bill, is an act to provide for laying out, and establishing a State road, to connect the East Saginaw and Au Sable river State road, with the Tawas and Manistee State road, in the counties of Arenac, Iosco, and Ogemaw, and to provide for its construction, by an appropriation of swamp land, and the raising and expenditure of certain moneys therefor, by the township through which said road passes. The first section, appoints Frank Duplanty, Charles S. Kalmer, and William Maurer, Commissioners to lay out and establish the road. It is provided, that the highway taxes on the land one mile on each side of the road, for five years from the passage of the act, when paid into the treasuries of the various townships, shall, by such treasurers, be paid over to the said Commissioners, to be expended by them, on said road, in the township in which said taxes are assessed. It also provides, that the township boards of the townships through which said road passes, may, by a majority vote of the electors thereof, issue bonds of their respective townships, in an amount not to exceed one-half of one per cent, of the aggregate valuation of the above described district, to be payable in five years, with a rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent. The Commissioners are required to account to the Board of Supervisors of the county, through which said road passes, at the annual session of said board.

The third act is entitled "An act to provide for the drainage and reclamation of swamp lands, by means of a ditch from Little Black lake in Muskegon county, to Lake Michigan, and to make an appropriation of State swamp lands therefor." The length of the drain, does not appear from the bill, and the provision is permissive, leaving the question entirely to the discretion of the board, as to how much, if any, land, shall be appropriated for the object named. There is no tax feature connected with this bill.

The fourth act, is entitled "An act to provide for the construction of a State road bridge, across Black river, in the township of Grant, St. Clair county, and to appropriate State swamp lands, the proceeds of which are to be used in the construction of said bridge." Whether this road is upon the line of the State road does not appear, but the records of the Land Commissioner's office, will probably show. The act, is not a positive appropriation, but an authority, leaving to the board, the discretion, as to whether any, or how much land within the limits, shall be appropriated.

The fifth act, is entitled "An act to appoint Commissioners, and provide for laying out and establishing a State road in the county of Newaygo, and to make an appropriation of one-half section of State swamp land per mile, for constructing and improving the same, and to provide that the highway money taxes, assessed and levied upon all lands situated within two miles of each side of said road, shall be used for constructing and improving said road, for a period of five years from the passage of this bill, and to provide for raising and expending, certain necessary funds therefor."

This act, is much like the second one, referred to above, in principle. The commissioners are appointed by this act, and it is made their duty to lay out and survey the road, and file the survey with the township clerk. In addition to the appropriation of swamp land, which is positive, and not left to the discretion of this board, it is provided, that all highway taxes, including highway labor taxes, assessed and levied upon the land situated within two miles of each side of said road, for a period of five years from and after, the passage of this act, shall be, when paid into the treasuries of the various townships through which said road shall pass, paid over to said commissioners, to be by them expended on said road, in the township in which said taxes are levied and collected. It also provides, that the highway labor that is worked within two miles on either side, shall be worked on said road, under the direction of the various overseers of highways, taking from overseer of highways the right to have any work done upon, or highway money expended in, the improvement of any road within two miles of either side of this road. It is made the duty of overseers of highways, to receive any money for highway taxes, and pay the same, over to the commissioners appointed by the act.

In this act, as in the second one referred to, it is made the duty of the commissioners to render an account to the board of supervisors of the county through which said road passes, at the annual session of said board.

The 6th act, is entitled "An act making an appropriation of state swamp land, for the purpose of, cleaning dredging, and clearing out, the south branch of Black Creek, in the township of Eggleston, and also the township and county drains, in the township of Moreland, in Muskegon county, and directing the board of control of state swamp lands, to conduct the same." Nothing is stated in the title, in regard to the taxation scheme which is found in the body of the act. Section one, of this act, appropriates by positive grant, sixteen sections of swamp land in the lower peninsula of this state, in the market, for the purpose of these several improvements. Provision is made for an application to the probate court, for the appointment of three commissioners, to superintend the construction of the work, upon notice given as required by the act. The duties of said commissioners, are, to cause a survey to be made of the proposed improvement; to make an estimate of the expense, and to secure title to the county of Muskegon, of the land for right of way, of said improvement.

The commissioners, are, also, to make a certificate of the amount of damages awarded, to be made payable to the owner of any land, describing the land, and file such certificate, with the township clerk of said township, which certificate shall be deemed sufficient security for the amount of damages. There is a provision for soliciting funds for the purpose of aiding this work. Section 10 of this act, provides that the contract must not be let for an amount in excess of the amount of land appropriated, and subscriptions, and the commissioners are not authorized to advertise for letting such contract, until in their opinion they have sufficient subscriptions, to secure the letting of the contract in each township.

Section 11 provides, that said subscription lists, shall be assigned by said commissioners to the proper contractor, at the time of making said contracts.

Section 12, among other things, provides that if a sufficient amount of the subscriptions shall not have been secured, the commissioners shall make an order, abandoning the work in the townships, respectively.

Section 13, provides: "The cost of constructing said improvement, together with the expenses incidental thereto, in excess of the appropriation hereby made, and of any contributions which the said commissioners may secure, may be assessed upon, and when so assessed, shall be paid by the said townships, by reason of the benefit to the public health, and as a means of improving any public highways in said townships."

This section also provides, that whatever damages may be awarded in securing the right of way, shall be paid by the townships in which said lands lie, for which said damages were awarded.

With the exception of the third and fourth acts referred to, all of the acts are positive and equivalent in terms to a grant of land.

The second, fifth, and sixth acts, have embodied in their provisions, a tax scheme which, under the Constitution of the State of Michigan, and the decisions of our Supreme Court, has been held invalid.

Section 9, of article 14, of the Constitution, provides: "The State shall not be a party to, or interested in any work of internal improvement, or engage in carrying on such work, except in the expenditure of grants to the State, of land, or other property."

Under this provision of the Constitution, we have several decisions, which would render invalid, at least, the taxing feature of these three acts referred to, whether the tax be that of a direct one, to be levied upon the townships upon the authority of a vote of a majority of the electors, or a direct and positive provision for the application of the highway taxes, within a district specified in the acts, to the contemplated improvement.

As bearing upon this question, we call attention to the cases of Wilcox vs. Paddock, 31st N. W. Rep., 609; Anderson vs. Hill, 54 Mich., 477; Sparrow vs. Commissioner of Land Office, 56 Mich., 567; Ryerson vs. Utley, 18 Mich., 274; Hubbard vs. Township Board of Springwells, 25 Mich., 153.

The question may be suggested, as to whether part of these acts, may not be sustained, even if other portions fall by reason of this Constitutional provision, and the authorities cited.

It is evident, that the Legislature had in mind, in passing these acts, certain definite improvements, which would require not only the land granted, but also the other aid, by way of taxes provided for, by the acts in question. The improvements contemplated could only have been partially completed, if the view of the Legislature was correct, by the grants in question, and failing to secure the balance necessary, to carry the work into effect, it would be only partially completed, and probably but little benefit would be realized from the grant; and it is doubtful whether any grant would have been made by the Legislature, if these defects had been known to exist.

While it is true, that some parts of an act may be sustained, while other parts of the same act are held unconstitutional; yet, where one provision is made to depend, or the reason for its passage by the Legislative body, depended upon the existence and giving effect to the other portions of the act which are found to be invalid, the established rule, as we understand it, is that the entire act must fall.

The appointment of commissioners by the Legislature, as is done by two of the acts in question, comes directly within the holding in Wilcox vs. Paddock. The sixth act to which we have called attention, by its terms, provides, a method in which the contracts shall be let, and a letting which is to be done, not only in connection with the subscriptions which are anticipated, but also, with a view to assess the balance of the cost of the proposed improvement, and any damages which may be allowed upon the townships, and while the commissioners, quite likely, could properly be appointed by the Probate Court of Muskegon County, for such purpose, yet the method to be pursued, in the letting of contracts, takes into consideration the unconstitutional features of the act.

Our conclusion is, therefore, that, for the reasons suggested, these three acts containing provisions for the raising of a part of the expenses or damages caused by the proposed improvements by tax would fail, if brought before the courts entirely.

It has been brought to our attention that in the passage of these several swamp land measures, which have been referred to us by this board, only a majority vote was secured in either house, the highest vote upon any one of these bills in the House, being 62, and from that running down to 51, a bare majority vote of the House.

As the Board has asked us to report as to the validity of these measures, we consider this one, the question to which we should very properly advert in our report to this Board.

Section 45 of Article 4 of the State Constitution reads as follows: "The assent of two-thirds of the members elect of each House, shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public money or property for local or private purposes." The appropriation of these lands, is for local purposes.

In the case of Sparrow vs. Commissioner of State Land Office, above referred to, both Judges Cooley and Campbell recognize in their opinions given, that a grant of this character comes within the constitutional provision above quoted, and that it should be passed by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

Our conclusion, therefore, is that these several measures which contain an absolute grant of lands for the improvements therein mentioned and proposed, are invalid for the reason that the same were not passed by the requisite vote of the Legislature.

From inquiry that we have made, and from information that has been imparted to us, we are satisfied that several of these measures are meritorious and the acts worthy in our judgment, if they can be carried out, and we would recommend further investigation, with a view of ascertaining whether any assistance can be rendered to these localities by this board, in carrying into effect the appropriations suggested by the Legislature.

Railroad.—Police regulations relative to trains standing upon track at railroad junctions.—Maintenance of gates under order of Commissioner of Railroads.—Air brakes on mixed trains.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Aug. 16, 1887. }

Hon. John T. Rich, Commissioner of Railroads:

DEAR SIR:—I have examined with some care, the statutes referred to, in your letter of 2d inst. relative to accidents happening from trains standing across the tracks of other railroads at railroad junctions and crossings. From any of these statutes, do not see the way entirely clear for an order forbidding such practices, although quite likely such an order would be respected. The Section, Howell's Statutes (Sec. 3369) to which you refer makes it the duty of every railroad corporation to furnish each of its employes a printed or written copy of its rules and regulations, and any willful violation of the same, subjects such employé, so violating the rules, to a penalty. You say some of the railroads have rules prohibiting stopping of their trains upon the crossing of railroad tracks, and in these cases, there would under the statutes referred to, be a partial remedy at least. Is not such a crossing, a railroad crossing, so that some sort of a gate can be required by you which would have to be kept closed under regulations to be adopted, while a train was standing upon the track of the other road? Section 3365, Howell's Statutes, permits you, when in your opinion the public interest demands it, to require the construction and maintenance of a gate, at any railroad crossing.

I do not think it would be an unreasonable construction, to hold this applicable to the crossing of one railroad of the track of another, and to require a gate, or the stationing of a flagman at such point. Secs. 27, 28, 29 and 30 (Howell 3309 to 3312) apply to the orders made in pursuance of such statute, and Section 30 would not seem to enlarge the powers of the Commissioner.

As to the running of freight cars, with passenger and sleeping coaches attached, without air brakes, as required by Section 3363 of Howell's Statutes, about which I advised you on the 24th ult., while there may be some practicable difficulty in the way of attaching air brakes to a train made up in part of freight cars, I do not see how the law can be held inapplicable to a train composed of a sleeper as well as passenger coaches in connection with freight cars, when the same is run regularly, and advertised as the "Night Express."

Whether it is advisable to interfere with the train in question, or the circumstances and danger to public travel are such as to require intervention on your part, are questions for you to determine from the better light and knowledge which you possess.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,

Physicians.—What constitutes an advertising or holding out by, under Act No. 167, Laws of 1883.—Spiritual or mental healing not the practice of medicine but an imposition upon the public.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Aug. 16, 1887. }

Henry G. Dozer, Prosecuting Attorney, Cheboygan, Mich.:

DEAR SIR: Your letter of Aug. 4, 1887, asking my construction of Section 6 of act No. 167 of the Laws of 1883, duly received.

You ask, first, if it is an advertising or holding out to the public of the practice of medicine or surgery, for a physician to hang out his sign and advertise his professional business card in some newspaper, or circulate hand-bills, without filing the required statement with the county clerk.

Second. If a person who practices the science of spiritual or mental healing, and receives compensation therefor, is required to file his statement with the county clerk, as directed by said act, and whether his failure so to do, constitutes a misdemeanor.

And third, if a physician fails to file his statement within three months, after such act takes effect, according to Section 2, what is there in the act which authorizes or requires him to register, after the expiration of said three months?

As to the first question, I think that advertising oneself as a physician or surgeon, either by card in some newspaper or by circular hand-bills, distributed among the people, would be an advertising within the meaning of the act, but that the business advertised must be actually that for which the act provides, viz., the practice of medicine or surgery in this State.

As to the second question, Act No. 167 provides, it shall not be lawful for any person to practice medicine or surgery, or any branch thereof, in this State, without having the qualifications required by the provisions of this act, and without having first registered in the office of the county clerk, as provided in this act.

I do not think that the practice of the so-called science of spiritual or mental healing, although for a compensation, is a practice of medicine or surgery, but rather the practice of an imposition, upon the gullible portion of the community.

As to the third question, Subdivision 2 of Section two, requires the registration of every graduate of a lawfully authorized medical college of this, or of any other of the United States, with the county clerk of the county where he is engaged or intends to practice medicine, and the filing of a sworn statement with the county clerk.

Section four, precludes persons from collecting their bills, who have not duly qualified and registered.

The act seems to require a registration, and while it is impossible to force a man to register, who does not do it voluntarily, yet practically, it would seem to be very difficult for him to carry on the practice of medicine, without either advertising or holding himself out to the public as authorized to practice medicine or surgery, and making himself liable to the penalty provided for, by section six of the act.

Very respectfully yours,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General,

Organization of Benevolent Societies or associations not permissible.—Organization of the "United Legion of America" not regular.—The scheme not valid.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Aug. 20, 1887. }

Hon. Henry S. Raymond, Commissioner of Insurance:

DEAR SIR:—Your inquiry of 19th instant, relative to the organization of the "United Legion of America" is before me. You state that this institution is organized under Chapter 164 of Howell's Statutes, a chapter providing for the organization of benevolent societies, and ask if it can carry on a life insurance business, on the assessment plan, such as its articles and by-laws submitted, import. I have examined the constitution and by-laws of the "United Legion of America," and, while it professes to have for its object the uniting of "all persons of sound bodily health, sound mind, and good, moral character, over 21 years of age, * * * into a fraternal society," and to promote "social, mental, and moral improvement," and "to provide for the visitation and care of members when sick, and for the burial of its dead," its principal object evidently, is to create a fund by assessments for the payment of death and disability losses. The "Benefit Fund" at least is to consist of "80 per cent of the amount received from assessments, and shall be exclusively used for the payment of death and disability benefits and matured certificates."

The table of rates, is given upon ages from 21 to 95, and, while those persons over sixty-five years of age are not to be initiated, yet they can become honorary members upon an application to "be acted upon by the council, in the same manner as is prescribed for the admission of other members," and such members cannot sit in the council, and are exempt from initiation fees. From the fact, that rates are fixed for assessments upon persons over sixty-five years of age, and they are exempted from initiation fees, it would seem that they are to stand upon the same footing as other members, except that they are not to be initiated into the mysteries of the order, sit in its councils, and pay initiation fees. This feature of the scheme would probably be objectionable, under the law of 1887, but that is not a question presented. All people, of whatsoever station, or nationality, whether rich or poor (excepting minors), of good health and sound morals, are permitted to become members of this society and to reap its benefits, "provided the beneficiary named in the benefit certificate, has a legal insurable interest." Is this a benevolent society? If it is, then any assessment insurance association, must be held to be a benevolent association, and can organize under this chapter. The act in question is No. 155 of the laws of 1879, and is entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation of benevolent societies." The principal object is "to provide for the relief of distressed members, the visitation of the sick, the burial of the dead," and other benevolent and worthy purposes and objects, affecting the members. In the organization in question, each member gets just what he pays for, even though he be a millionaire, and his family at his death be left with untold wealth. Such a member, meeting with a mishap, cannot be said to be in distress, within the meaning of the statute, nor are the members of his family at his decease, nor can the contribution of a few hundred or thousand dollars, to him or his heirs be termed a benevolent act.

My opinion is, that the "United Legion of America" is not properly organized under Chapter 164 of Howell's Statutes, and cannot carry on the insurance business proposed, under such an organization.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Board of School Examiners.—Member of, not eligible to election as Secretary of the Board.—A fourth member, to be brought into the Board as Secretary.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Sept. 2, 1887. }

Hon. Joseph Estabrook, Superintendent of Public Instruction :

DEAR SIR :—Your request of date the 1st instant, asking my opinion as to the eligibility of a member of the Board of School Examiners, to election as Secretary of the Board, under the new law of 1887, is before me. Under this law, it is made the duty of the two School Examiners with the Judge of Probate, acting as a member and clerk of the Board to employ a Secretary. I do not think it was the intention of the Legislature, that they should employ one of their own number as Secretary: if such were the intent it would have been so expressed, as in the old law. The two positions are incompatible, and to a certain extent inconsistent. The language of Section 2 of the Laws of 1887, clearly shows, that while the Secretary is a member ex-officio, he does not stand upon the same footing as the other members. It reads: "The Secretary of the Board, shall be ex-officio a member, and the executive officer of the Board of Examiners, in the transaction of all business of said Board, except in the appointing or removing from office of the Secretary of said Board." My opinion is, that it was the intention of the statute to bring into the Board a fourth member, to act as its executive officer, and take part in the ordinary transaction of business. If the other view prevailed, there would undoubtedly be a great diversity in numbers of the Boards throughout the State, some electing one of their own number Secretary and others outside persons. Independent of statute, the rule is pretty well settled by the Courts, that an official cannot by his own vote, elect himself to any position.

Yours truly,

MOSES TAGGART,

Marriage license.—Application for, may be by others than the contracting parties.—Where inconsistent with other acts, it supersedes them.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, Sept. 13, 1887. }

Hon. F. B. Egan, Deputy Secretary of State:

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of inquiry as to the construction of the Marriage License Law of 1887, received.

You ask the following questions;

First. Whether the parties named in Section 859 of Howell's Statutes, have to make the return provided for in that section, and pay the fee therein required?

Second. Whether Sections 3 and 4 of the act of 1887, operates as a repeal of said Section 859?

Third. Whether both man and woman are required by Section 1 of the new law, to obtain separate licenses, and whether both under Section 2, have to make separate affidavits?

Fourth. Whether the application to marry, can be made by other parties than those intending to enter the marriage relation, and whether the necessary affidavit, can be made by such parties?

Section 859 of Howell's Statutes, provides for the making of a record of the marriage by the magistrate, minister, clerk, or keeper of the records of meetings, in which a marriage among Friends or Quakers is solemnized, and the delivery of a copy thereof, to the parties joined in matrimony, and the return to the county clerk of the county in which such marriage took place.

The new act, makes provisions for the record to be kept by the minister or magistrate, the return to be made to the county clerk, and the fee, which he shall receive for his services, and in express terms repeals all acts, and parts of acts inconsistent therewith.

Inasmuch as this law of 1887 covers the same grounds substantially in these particulars as the section of Howell to which you call my attention, I think such section is superseded and repealed by it.

This answers your first two questions.

Only one license to the two persons proposing to marry is required; nor is more than one affidavit necessary, provided it is sufficiently full and explicit.

There is nothing in the new enactment, requiring the application for license, and the affidavit upon which it is based, to be made personally by one of the parties intending to be married; and I am of the opinion, therefore, that such application, as well as affidavit, may be made by any person duly authorized by either party directly interested.

When, however, the application is not personal, the county clerk should be especially careful in ascertaining the authority of the agent, and only issue the license upon a showing by affidavit of an agent having knowledge of the facts required to be set forth therein.

The new law, where it expressly provides for the steps to be taken in the performance of the marriage contract, or in keeping a record of the same, was intended by the Legislature to take the place of, and operate as, a repeal of the former statutes on the same subject.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Coöperative insurance.—Construction of Act No. 187 of the Laws of 1887.—Contingencies insured against, thereunder.—Statement of contingency insured against, in policy.—For whose benefit insurance can be made.—Insurable interest.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Oct. 30, 1887.

Hon. H. S. Raymond, Commissioner of Insurance :

DEAR SIR :—In accordance with your request, I have examined the proposed amended articles of association of the "Standard Life Association," of Bay City, Michigan, with a view to determine whether the same, are in compliance with Act 187 of the Laws of 1887.

The three questions called to my attention by you, relate to the provisions found in Sections 13, 16 and 17, of the articles of the association. Section 16 provides, that if the death of the insured, occurs within sixty days from the date of the certificate, the sum of twenty-five dollars upon each one thousand dollars written, shall be paid ; if after sixty days and within eight months, the sum of two hundred dollars on each one thousand, shall be paid, and if after eight months, and within fourteen months, the sum of four hundred dollars on each one thousand, and if after fourteen months, and within twenty months, the sum of six hundred dollars on each one thousand, and if after twenty months, and within two years, the sum of eight hundred dollars, and after two years, the full sum of one thousand dollars shall be paid on each one thousand written on the certificate.

The question presented is whether this provision, conflicts with Section 15 of the new law, which provides "that every policy or certificate issued by any corporation organized in this State doing business under this act, promising payment to be made upon the contingency of death or disability by accident, shall specify the sum of money it promises to pay upon the contingency insured against." This language can only be construed from what it imports upon its face, and the intention of the members of the Legislature who voted for it, and who advocated the measure, cannot be considered by me, and would not be considered by the Courts, in placing a construction upon it. After a careful examination and consideration of the questions, I have come to the conclusion, that such a provision as is contained in Section 16, referred to, is permissible, because the contingency and amount to be paid upon the happening of that contingency, is expressly provided by the articles of association, and will be by the certificate or policy issued, if they follow the provision of said articles.

As to Section 17, of said articles of association of the "Standard Life Association," it occurs to me, that its provisions are not in compliance with the law. Section 26 of the new act, provides that corporations organized under the law of 1869, shall not be dissolved by this act, provided "that such corporation or association shall be found by the Attorney General and Commissioner of Insurance, after such examination as is provided for in Section 4 (in 17 of this act), to be organized and doing business in substantial conformity with the provisions of this Act, or shall be made to so conform, by immediate amendment of its Articles of Association."

One of the most important of the provisions of the new law, is that contained in Section 15, above referred to, providing the sum of money to be paid upon the happening of a contingency, shall be stated in the certificate or policy. The provisions of this section of the Articles of Association, if carried out to their legitimate result, in the issuing of a policy or certificate by this Association, will conflict with the express provisions of said section 15, of the new law, because the beneficiaries of one class of policy holders, will receive an uncertain amount in case of death of the insured. I take it, that the language of the new Act, referring to the reorganization of these old companies, so as to substantially conform to such Act, requires such a change in the policy issued by the Company or certificate, as to require a compliance with Section 15 of the new law, by stating the actual amount and specific sum which will be paid in case of death of the insured. The question was also presented as to whether Section 13 of the proposed Articles of Association, is in compliance with the provisions in the new law, and it was suggested that Section 28 of the new law, precluded the division proposed in said Section 13 of the Articles of Association of the assessments made. Section 28 of the new law, reads, "No funds or moneys received or collected by any corporation or association organized, existing or doing business hereunder for the purpose of paying, or providing for the payment of death losses or accident indemnities, shall be used or paid out for any other purpose whatsoever." The same section provides that a notice of any assessments or call made, shall specify the amount to be paid, the loss or indemnity for the payment of which the call or assessment is made. Subdivision 4 of Section 2 of the new law, provides that the Articles of Association, shall specify "in what manner and amount of assessments, premiums, or payments are to be required from the members, the purposes and objects to which the moneys so realized are to be appropriated; the names and objects of each fund into which any of such money shall be paid." It seems to me, therefore, that part of Section 2, just quoted, anticipates that the assessments may be divided into several parts and appropriated to several funds, and that the entire assessment need not necessarily go to the mortuary or emergency fund, and that the language of Section 28, prohibiting the use of any fund collected for the purpose of paying and providing for death losses, is intended to protect the fund, and should not be so construed, as to preclude a certain per cent. of an assessment, where that per cent. is properly specified in the notice given of the assessment, from going into the expense fund. It seems immaterial whether the amount collected for the expense fund, is collected at the time of any assessment, or is part of it, or of dues that are required to be paid at a certain specified time. The object was to protect the several funds of the Association, and by the notice given of the assessment, to inform the insured for what purpose the money was collected, and into what funds it would be placed.

There is another paragraph of some importance. The third section, of the Articles of Association, recites that it is organized "for the purpose of securing to themselves, heirs, creditors, or assigns of any member upon his death, a certain sum of money, to be paid by the Association out of the funds for that purpose."

The law prohibits an insurance for the benefit of any person who has not an insurable interest, section 16. And it is very doubtful whether an assignment to a person not having an insurable interest, would be an effectual avoidance of this prohibition. And so I would suggest, that the word "assigns" be stricken out of the proposed article, or amendment, or that other words, be added limiting the payment to such persons as would have an insurable interest in the life of the person insured.

Yours respectfully,

St. Joseph Insane Asylum.—Support of State insane at same.—Act 161 of Laws of 1887, valid and constitutional under sections 31 and 40 of article 4, of the Constitution.—Contract by Board of State Auditors, for the support of insane at such institutions.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, Nov. 1, 1887. }

L. C. Storrs, Esq., Secretary State Board of Corrections and Charities :

DEAR SIR :—In your letter, written in September, you ask me the following questions, viz :

1st. Whether the "St. Joseph's Insane Asylum" is "duly chartered, within the meaning of Act 161 of the Laws of 1887?"

2d. "Has the State the right to support, at public expense, at private asylums, insane patients, as provided in said act 161?"

3d. "Has the State the power to authorize the Board of State Auditors, to contract for the care and maintenance of State patients in private asylums, as provided in Sec. 4 of said act?"

4th. "Is said act constitutional?" * * * * * And if said act is constitutional, then you wish to know if the power of visitation and supervision exists, as in case of State institutions?

Act No. 161, of the Laws of 1887, is entitled "An act to provide for the care and maintenance of indigent insane persons in private asylums within the State." The first section authorizes the judge of probate, when the State institutions are full, upon application of county superintendents of the poor, and after the usual proceedings, have been had, to determine insanity, "to issue a certificate of admission to any private asylum duly chartered in this State." Section 2 of this act, authorizes the county superintendents of the poor, to contract for the care and maintenance of "such insane persons," and presumably with such private institutions. Section 3 makes provisions for removal to State institutions, and has no particular bearing on questions asked. Section 4, authorizes the Board of State Auditors to contract for care and maintenance of State patients, in "private asylums." The act clearly contemplates the keeping of insane persons at private institutions, over which the State has no control, and which are not State institutions in the meaning of Section 412, Howell's Statutes.

As bearing upon the question of the validity of this legislation, my attention is called to Sections 31 and 40, of Article 4 of the Constitution. Section 31, prohibits the Legislature from auditing any private claim or account. This is not applicable, for the reason that the Legislature does not assume to allow any private claim, and whatever claims may exist under this statute against the State, would probably come before the Board of State Auditors, who are authorized by Article 8, Section 4, of the Constitution, to adjust all claims against the State. Section 40 reads "No money shall be appropriated or drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious sect or society, theological or religious seminary, nor shall property belonging to the State, be appropriated for any such purpose." The "private asylums," referred to, in the statute, are not confined to those of any religious sect, creed, or belief, and to hold the act itself invalid, it becomes necessary to assume that all such asylums belong to some religious sect or society. If, however, the "St. Joseph's Retreat," to which my attention is specially called, or any other asylum covered by the act, are under the control of any religious sect, it would not invalidate the act as a whole, or prevent, in my opinion, a contract of the character intended by the act, with such institution.

If insane patients are sent to private asylums under the act in question, they are sent under contracts by which the State pays for their board, and as a consideration therefor, the asylums care for and furnish board to these unfortunates, who are State chargees.

In my judgment, this is not an appropriation of money, or State property, to a religious sect or society, within the meaning of said Section 40, but that such section refers to gifts of money or State property. If the act were the cover of some gift to avoid this constitutional prohibition, the question would be a different one, but there is nothing in the act, or your statement, indicating such to be the object. I have answered thus far, generally. I see no difficulty in the Board of State Auditors, or the county officials, named in the act, making, with private asylums, the contracts authorized by it. "St. Joseph's Retreat" was organized December 1, 1883, under Chapter 166, of Howell's Statutes, which provides for the incorporation of "hospitals and asylums," and it is therefore "duly chartered," within the meaning of the law of 1887.

I do not think that such an institution, can be said to be "supported in whole or in part by the State," and if this view is correct, then it is not a State institution. If it were a State institution, it would not be a private asylum. I do not find in Chapter 13, of Howell's Statutes, relating to the supervision, by your Board of State institutions, or in the Laws of 1885, or elsewhere, any authority for the exercise of supervision by the Board of Corrections and Charities, or other boards, over these private asylums, with which contracts have been made, for boarding insane patients. This may have been an oversight on the part of the Legislature, or the numbers that were expected to be so provided for, so small, that such supervision was considered unnecessary. I see no difficulty, however, in making contracts with such private asylums, and in providing in such contracts, for the same supervision and visits by the Board of Corrections and Charities, as are made to State institutions.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Marriage license.—Non-residents.—Where valid.—Issued properly in any county in the State, may be used in any other county of the State.—This law not applicable when the contracting parties are both non-residents of the State.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Nov. 5, 1887. }

Wm. P. Lang, Esq., County Clerk of Wayne County:

'DEAR SIR:—Your letter to me asks my opinion of the marriage license law, upon the points embodied in the following questions:

(1.) "Can a license be issued to parties (both non-residents), when they reside in another county, another State, or in a foreign country?"

(2.) "Would a license, granted to a resident of this county, be recognized as valid, where party would marry a resident of another county, in that county?"

The first section of this act reads, "It shall be necessary for all parties, intending to be married; to obtain a marriage license from the county clerk of the county in which either the man or woman resides, and to deliver the said license to the clergyman or magistrate, who is to officiate, before the marriage can be performed."

Section 6 provides that "any clergyman or magistrate, who shall join together in marriage, parties who have not delivered to him a properly issued license, as provided for in this act," or who shall violate any of its provisions, shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor. By Section 5, the county clerk is held guilty of the like offense if he "shall refuse to give a license to persons properly applying and legally entitled to be married." The first section requires the application to be made to the clerk of the county where one of the parties, reside. The word "reside" must be construed to mean the home of one of the parties. If this term were construed to mean, where one of the parties might be, then a resident of one county could apply personally to the clerk of any county in the State, and clearly such was not the intention of the Legislature. If this is the proper construction, then the application must be made, under this law, by a resident of some county of the State, to the clerk of such county, as it is not to be assumed that the Legislature intended to make this act applicable to licenses to be issued by clerks of counties of other States and countries. No one, it would seem, therefore, could "properly apply" for a license so as to subject the county clerk to the penalty of Section 5, unless a resident of the county in which the application was made. This act does not declare invalid marriages performed, where no license has been issued, nor is such its legal effect.

While non-residents of the State, can make a valid contract of marriage in the State, there is no provision in this act, for the issuing of licenses to them. It would be too close and an unreasonable construction to say, that such persons cannot contract marriage in Michigan, without the person officiating at the ceremony subjecting himself to the penalties of this act. In such a case "a properly issued license, as provided for in this act," cannot be presented to the clergyman or magistrate, as it is not obtainable, and the act does not provide for it. The act is, in this particular, defective, but if the clergyman and magistrate perform the marriage ceremony without a license, only in those cases where both parties are non-residents of the State, they are not, in my judgment, subject to the penalties of this act. The difficulty will lie, in satisfying such officials that the contracting parties are non-residents of the State.

A license issued by the county clerk of a county where one of the parties resided, would be sufficient authority for the performance of the marriage ceremony, anywhere in the State.

I have extended this answer somewhat beyond your questions, hoping thereby to cover numerous inquiries from different parts of the State.

Yours respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Transfer of criminal insane patients from Eastern Michigan Asylum, to Criminal Insane Asylum.—Expense of transfer.—Charge for support of such patients.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Nov. 18, 1887. }

Dr. O. R. Long, Medical Supt. Michigan Asylum for Insane Criminals :

DEAR SIR :—Your letter of 16th instant, relative to Anna Cook, a criminal insane person, was duly received. You state that Anna Cook was transferred from the Detroit

House of Correction to the asylum "November 5, 1887,"—1886 I suppose you mean—and April 19, 1887, she was discharged and returned to her home at Saginaw. That August 17, 1887, she was admitted to the Eastern Michigan Asylum, by order of the Judge of Probate of Saginaw county, and was transferred to your asylum August 27, 1887, by the Medical Superintendent of the Eastern Michigan Asylum, under the "provisions of last clause of Section 27, Act 190, Laws of 1883, as amended by Act 43, Laws of 1887." That the county of Saginaw refuses to pay the bill for her maintenance, and you ask my opinion as to such county's liability.

The transfer of this person to your asylum, made August 27, 1887, must have been under the law of 1883, as the act of 1887 had not then taken effect. Section 27 of Act 190 of the Laws of 1883, does not provide for, or authorize a transfer from the Eastern Michigan Asylum to your asylum, but only from the State Prison or the Houses of Correction in the State.

Section 26 of the latter act, does make provision for transfer to your asylum, of insane criminals found in the Michigan and Eastern Asylums at the opening of the Michigan Asylum for Insane Criminals. This does not appear to make provisions for such criminal insane persons as might thereafter be found in such institutions, but possibly it might be so construed. This section does provide, that the persons transferred under its authority, to your asylum, shall be supported by the State.

The act of 1887 does provide for transfer of insane persons, from State asylums to your asylum and that the "expense of such transfer, shall be chargeable to the State of Michigan" when such persons have before been treated in such asylum. The same section also provides for a transfer from State Asylums, when the person has previously served one term in prison.

The latter clause of Section 20, Laws of 1883, which still stands unrepealed, reads: "In case of the transfer to the Michigan Asylum for Insane Criminals, or patients, from either of the existing asylums, or from the Northern Asylum for the Insane, who are, or shall be, under treatment at county expense, the length of time of such treatment, shall be counted." A pretty clear inference can be fairly drawn from the language just quoted, that the Legislature understood when this law was enacted, patients receiving county support in the State Asylum when first sent, would continue to be so supported, for the remainder of the two years. And I think the first sentence of the subsequent section 22, tends to support this view. As this woman was sent to the Eastern Asylum by order of the Probate Judge, I assume that she was sent there as a county charge, under the general law found in Section 1904 of Howell's Statutes, and such being the case, it is my opinion that Saginaw county is liable for her support. The language of Section 26 of Laws of 1883, probably was intended to apply to persons who were criminal convicts, and by reason of insanity had been placed in State Insane Asylums. The intention of our State Legislature, as drawn from its enactments referred to, appears to me, to be this: That the State shall support insane persons who are convicted criminals, whether in State Prisons or the Criminal Insane Asylum, and that other insane criminals shall, for two years from the time of sending to any State institution for the treatment of insane persons, be treated, if indigent, as county charges, their maintenance to be paid for by the respective counties from which they were sent.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Construction of Act No. 165 of Laws of 1887.—Instruction in public schools, as to effect of alcohol and narcotics upon the human system.—How far such act mandatory.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Dec. 15, 1887. }

Hon. Joseph Estabrook, Superintendent Public Instruction, Lansing, Mich.:

DEAR SIR :—In your letter of 12th instant, you ask me the following questions :

1st. "Do the provisions of Act No. 165, Public Acts of 187, require approved text books, to be in the hands of all the pupils of every grade, in a graded school?"

2d. "Will oral instruction, by the use of an approved text book, in the hands of the teacher, accompanied with illustrations, by means of charts, meet the requirements of the above-mentioned act, in primary grades?"

Section 15, of the act in question reads: "The district board shall specify the studies to be pursued in the schools of the districts, and in addition to the branches in which instruction is now required by law to be given, in the public schools of the State, instruction shall be given in physiology and hygiene, with a special reference to the nature of alcohol and narcotics, and their effects upon the human system. Such instruction shall be given by the aid of text books, in the cases of pupils who are able to read, and as thoroughly, as in other studies pursued in the same school."

The language of the statute requiring the instruction to be by the "aid of text books, in the case of pupils who are able to read," implies that the ability to read, is to be brought in requisition with such pupils, and that such text books are to be placed in their hands. This would necessitate the placing of approved text books, upon the subjects in question, "in the hands of all the pupils of every grade in a graded school," I presume. It would not necessarily follow, that such instruction would be continuous, but the pupils of this class must be instructed as thoroughly in this, as other studies of a like nature, whether it takes a few weeks, or months, or a longer time, to so instruct them.

As to the second question, as to whether oral instruction, by the aid of text books, and illustrations, by means of charts, meet the requirements of said act, in primary schools, I would say, that where the pupils in the primary department have sufficient capacity to read, and understand what they read, there would seem to be the same necessity, under the reading of the statute, that they be provided with text books, as pupils of graded schools. In such schools, however, the judgment and good sense of the teachers, under the rules of the school board, should largely control, in my opinion, as in many cases, the pupils would have so little of an understanding of what they might read, that oral instruction, with illustration, would be by far the most effectual.

The text books adopted, must of course comply with the statute, in giving sufficient space to the consideration of the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks.

Yours truly,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.

Insane patients.—Reclaiming same, after escape from the asylum.—Whether another adjudication of court required, when patient has escaped and remained away from the asylum for several years?

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, Oct. 31, 1887. }

Dr. Henry M. Hurd, Medical Superintendent of the Michigan Asylum :

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of 18th instant, was received while engaged upon State cases, and hence, answer was delayed. You state that John T. Hanchett, was admitted to your asylum, November 9, 1881, under the order of a Circuit Court Commissioner, in consequence of disorderly conduct, caused by insanity; and October 26, 1882, he was removed by a sister. That in January, 1883, he was re-admitted to the asylum, by virtue of an order of the Judge of Probate of Lenawee county, and remained at the asylum until June 4, 1884, when he escaped. That prior to his escape, he was "regarded a quiet, peaceable, trustworthy man;" and that from the time of his escape until now, the officers of the asylum had no clue to his whereabouts. That you now learn that Hanchett is living near Mt. Morris, Genesee county, self-supporting, and has accumulated some property. Your asylum is now asked, to apprehend Hanchett, and return him to that institution.

You ask me two questions: 1st, Whether the order of the Judge of Probate is permissive or mandatory? and 2d, Whether the order of the Probate Court remains in force until voided by the death or discharge of the patient as recovered?

Section 23, of act 135, of the laws of 1885, in case of persons in indigent circumstances, provides a method for determination by Probate Judge, of the questions of indigence and insanity, and when he has certified as to the existence of each, under the seal of the court, such person "shall be admitted into the asylum" * * * "until he shall be restored to soundness of mind, if effected in two years, and until otherwise ordered." It appears to me, in this class of patients, that while one, and perhaps the principal object is to determine the indigence of the person alleged insane, yet that when such determination is had, as well as that of insanity, the asylum doors cannot be closed, and the patient refused admittance. The public, as well as the patient and his friends, are interested in giving him proper treatment, and the Legislature having used imperative language, I would say, that in my judgment, it should be construed as mandatory.

The law does not specify how long the order of the Probate Judge shall have effect. It certainly ought to have no effect after the patient has recovered his sanity; but the determination of such recovery seems to be left with the proper officials of the asylum.

Section 10, of act 135, of the laws of 1885, authorizes and anticipates that such officials will prepare and execute the necessary rules, by which such discharge shall be accomplished, until the patient is discharged by action of the officers of the asylum directly, or some decree of court, or, in case of an escape, by action that might be treated as an abandonment or loss of authority over him. I think the order could be said to be so far authoritative, as to protect the officials, and justify them in retaining custody of the patient. The circumstances you state, go far to show Hanchett a sane man, for a part, if not the entire time, since he left the asylum; and the claims of friends and relatives, indicate that he is a dangerous, if not an insane man. The escape of an insane person, and the right to return him to custody, can hardly be compared with that of a convicted criminal, because, in such case, the law expressly provides for his reclamation, and the serving out of the remainder of his term. Any man held as an insane person, is entitled to his liberty upon becoming sane, and the Probate order, in addition to its determining the conditions of indigence and insanity, which authorizes the placing of a party, in an insane asylum, operates as a protection of the asylum officials, simply, and not as a decree, final and conclusive, from which under no circumstances, the patient can escape. Under the circumstances stated in yours, as well as in the letter of Judge Geddes, it occurs to me, that the best and safest course to pursue, will be to treat your authority over Hanchett at an end, and have an order made in the usual manner by the Probate Court. The conduct of Hanchett in supporting himself, and accumulating property, is such as to entitle him to a hearing upon the question of competency and sanity, and there is so much of a question as to whether your authority is continued by the old order made, and is not lost by long, passive acquiescence in the escape, that this, to me, seems the wiser course.

Very respectfully,

MOSES TAGGART,
Attorney General.
